

ANGLICKÉ OKÉNKO 17

REMIND & REMEMBER

Don't say: Remember me to pay the phone bill.

Say: Remind me to pay the phone bill.

Don't say: This sort of weather remembers me of home.

Say: This sort of weather reminds me of home.

We use remind...of to say that something / somebody makes us remember the past, or things that have been forgotten.

But: I'm afraid I won't remember to pay the milkman.

MEETING A STYLIST

Robert: Good afternoon, madam. I'm Robert. So what can we do for you today?

Christina: Just a cut and blow-dry, please. It only needs a trim, I think.

Robert: Yes – I see the ends are a bit damaged.

Christina: I'm afraid my hair is not in a very good condition. It's been a while since my last haircut.

Robert: Not to worry. I'll take off the split ends when I clean up the layers. And we've got a special conditioning treatment called "Liquid Caviar". It only costs £5 extra.

Christina: Sounds good. I'll give it a try.

Robert: Fine. I'll get Carly to do the wash.
