

SPEND MONEY X SPEND HOLIDAY

SPEND MONEY X SPEND HOLIDAY

Don't say: "I spend money for an expensive holiday."

Say: "I spend money on an expensive holiday."

We use the verb spend money on when we buy something. However, we can also use it in various different meanings, e.g.: spend holiday, spend time, etc.

HOLIDAY

P – Peter, E – Eva

P: Hi Eva, how did you spend your holiday on the island Crete?

E: It was excellent! I really enjoyed the magnificent location of our hotel as we had a beautiful sea view from our bedroom.

P: Oh, that sounds great! Did you have an en-suite bathroom?

E: Yes, it was a really comfortable room. When it comes to the restaurant, we were offered a wide range of delicious dishes, so we often stuffed ourselves.

P: That sounds like you enjoyed it! Did you have a full-board or a half-board?

E: We had all-inclusive, so we didn't have to spend money on food. Also, we could taste some exquisite cocktails at the bar.

P: I see. Well, that is convenient. I am happy you enjoyed it.

E: Thank you for a good tip, Peter!

P: You are welcome.
